

May 25, 2010

Doug Reinhardt: 'Bachelor could be fun'

Doug Reinhardt has reportedly said that it "could be fun" to appear on The Bachelor.

The baseball player - who previously dated Paris Hilton - was asked by Hollywood Life if he would ever be interested in the ABC romance reality show.

"I'd do that, sure! I don't think that would be a bad idea at all. Could be fun," he is quoted as replying.

The 25-year-old, who split from Hilton last month, added that he is "kind of seeing someone" at the moment but that the relationship is not serious.

Reinhardt recently denied rumors that he is romancing new Miss USA Rima Fakih, after they were allegedly introduced through friends.

The sixth season of The Bachelorette - starring Ali Fedotowsky - kicked off on ABC last night.